SCIAF

This weeks second collection is for SCIAF. SCIAF was founded in 1965 by a small group of Scottish Catholics who were united in their goal to reach out in love to the world's poorest people. Guided by the principles of the Second Vatican Council, Monsignor John Rooney and John McKee – an unpaid volunteer – set up SCIAF in a Rutherglen classroom with a budget of just £8,000. Their aim, which we they still live by today, was to help people in the world's poorest places and inspire Scottish Catholics to respond to Jesus' call for a just world in which all people can live life to the full.
